

GETTING TO SORRENTO

Sorrento is easily reached by car, train, bus, or by sea. The closest major city to travel through is Naples.

- By plane

Naples Capodichino Airport (NAP) is the closest airport to Sorrento (~31miles/50km). Click here for a list of taxi fares from NAP to area destinations, including the ports and train stations. From the airport, you can travel to Sorrento by one of the following:

- By bus

From the Arrival area of the Naples Airport there is a daily bus service to Sorrento provided by Curreri

- By car

From Rome or from the north take the A1 to Naples and the A3 towards Salerno, exiting at Castellammare di Stabia. You will be on the northern side of the Sorrentine Peninsula and should continue on SS145 down to Sorrento. Once in Sorrento, turn left at the crossroads onto Via Degli Aranci. Follow this road for 1/2 mile, then turn left onto Via S. Antonio for the Hilton Sorrento Palace.

From the south, travel on the A3 past Salerno, exit at Castellammare di Stabia and continue on SS145 to Sorrento. Once in Sorrento, turn left at the crossroads onto Via Degli Aranci. Follow this road for 1/2 mile, then turn left onto Via S. Antonio for the Hilton Sorrento Palace.

Information on the Italian Highway System can be found at: <http://www.autostrade.it/index.html>

- By train

The main station of Trenitalia (the Italian Railway) in Naples is Stazione Napoli Centrale in Piazza Garibaldi. Downstairs from the Trenitalia station in the Piazza Garibaldi is the "Ferrovie Circumvesuviana" where you can connect to Sorrento. Trains depart every 30 minutes and the travel time to Sorrento is just over one hour. Timetables can be found online at www.vesuviana.it

- By sea

From Naples there is boat, ferry (traghetto), hydrofoil (aliscafo), and steamer service to Sorrento. Hydrofoil service is faster than ferry service, and generally more expensive. Most leave from the Molo Beverello, the dock just off of the Piazza Municipio and opposite the Castel Nuovo. Two companies operating from Naples to Sorrento are: aliLauro and Navigazione Libera del Golfo

More detailed information on traveling to Sorrento can be found at www.sorrentotourism.com.

